I fully agree, it "is" better to fly into the Canyon instead of walking or driving to ruin one of the 7 wonders w/ pollution from a vehicle. By flying in you get to experience the 7 wonders without any damage to the canyon for the future. When you fly you get to experience the beauty through the air.

Amazing - I'd never seen the Grand Canyon except with pictures. Awesome is too mild for the scenery.

Why would you want to stop helicopter flights into the Grand Canyon - It is so vast and the noise so insignificant in comparison.

It really is a case of over managing the situation

I for one support the helicopter companies

It is such a great way to see the canyon and there really is no negative impact to anyone.

I BELIEVE THAT GRAND CANYON AIR TOURS, IS A MUST SEE
AND SHOULD BE AVAILABLE TO EVERYONE, ESPECIALLY TO ELDERLY AND THOSE ONE WHO ARE UNABLE TO DRIVE, WALK OR HIKE.
AIR TOURS IS THE LESS ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT THAT CAN EVER HAPPEN TO THE GRAND CANYON.
AGE SHOULD NOT BE RESTRICTED TO POLITICAL GAIN.

COMMENTS

I remember a few years back when I took an air tour over the Grand Canyon. I took my parents as a 40th wedding anniversary gift. Though both my parents are in very good shape for their age, they are in no condition to hike the canyon by any means.

My mother being 67 and my Father at 70 years old, neither had ever seen this magnificent 7th Wonder of the World. They both told me that it is one thing they wanted to do before they passed. When I saw their eyes light up as we approached the edge, and the tear roll down my Father's cheek as we slowly glided over. IT WAS AMAZING!!!

My Father passed just one year ago, and I know that he was ready to go, because after our flight he gave me a huge hug, said thank you, and that NOW he could say he'd seen everything.

Fantastic experience and a once in a life time opportunity.
The experience should be seen by all, being economically viable with what seems minimal impact on the environment.

COMMENTS:

Being disabled isn't something we choose, nor is something we want. However, it is something that a lot of us must face with ourselves or with our loved ones.
Although there maybe various ways to view the Grand Canyon, flying over may be stress is the most convenient for those who are physically challenged. Taking away the fly over of the Grand Canyon is taking away a lifetime experience of one of the Seven Wonders of the world.
